READER, If you would see exposed in all its deformity the fanaticism that is at work to complete the wreck of the Union which the secustonists have begue, read the article in this paper from the flochester. New York, Union, aded "A Sample Fanatio-Treason Ram pant." PARKER PILLIABURY is one of that gang of old and avowed disunionists, who are now being caressed and sent among the people by dicans and Fusionists, as our teachers and guides. Will the proclamation of such treasonable and blasphemous doctrines be tolerated? It is for a loyal people to decide.

Failing of the Roof of a Newspaper

On the afternoon of Friday, the 21st instant a serious disaster occurred in the Chicago Times establishment. The roof over the composing room gave way under the load of snow and water resting on is, crushing through the acc ond floor, carrying with the wreck of timbers a large and valuable amount of type, turtles, and other printing material. At the time of the erash, there were eighteen workmen engaged in the composing or news room, distributing type. The first intimation they had of the fall was a prolonged crash. They had barely time to escape down the stairs or into the adjoining roome, and, miraculous as it may appear, not one of them received dangerous wounds

The second floor, on which was situated the news room, fell simultaneously with the roof .-On the first floor was located a large book and who, with extreme difficulty, almost miracu lously effected their escape unburt.

But more wonderful still was the escape of JOSEPH G. BENNETT, one of the newspaper coming ruins, in the first floor. Three heavy turties, two of which were filled with type, weighing in all fitteen hundred pounds, fell around him, and yet he escaped without a broken limb. He received several severe bruises, but no inju- lows: ries of a serious nature.

The loss to the ustablishment, the Times says is several thousand dollars. Its regular issue was suspended for one day only.

COMMODORE FOOTE, the Cleveland Herald intimates, does not at present want to take Island No. 10. It says his intention, evidently, is merely to occupy rebel attention until a blow shall fall in some other quarter-on New Orleans, or on Memphis, or there may be a land ferce coming to make an attack from below the Island. The bombardment at long range keeps the rebel force busy at that point, and prevents any withdrawal of their troops to any other point.
